The Altruists entertained their husbands and friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Glyson last evening. At six o'clock a banquet was served. Following this, a welcome was extended to all by Mr. Glyson. The president of the society, Mrs. O. E. Philbrick, acted as toastmistress, and the following toasts were responded to: "Our Motto," Miss Sherburne; "Home," Mrs. Thayer; "Woman," Mrs. Averill; "Cheerfulness," Mrs. McElroy; and a reading was given by Mrs. Bishop. Mrs. Nelson gave two piano solos, and a violin solo was given by Master Dobie. The remainder of the evening was spent in a social way.

Clothed in fashions considerably out of date and making a most interesting sight, forty couples of people attended a masquerade dance in Woodmen's hall last night, the affair being one of the Wells series of dancing assemblies, which have been held this winter. The grand march was a sight to "sure the home" for the participants wore clothes which were extravagant in style, if not in texture, and the array was very motley, indeed. When it came to dancing, Riley's orchestra furnished a fine program, which helped to make the evening a "hit." At the intermission, the couples produced their dinner-pails and partook of a little refreshment, after which they got up and danced some more—or until one o'clock this morning.
